Home-comers from Abroad.

A long list of Honoluluans returned on the Siberia on Wednesday from journeys near and far. Miss Helen Achilles is returning from school, as is also Miss Elizabeth Pratt, who returned with her mother, Mrs. R. J. Pratt. Mr. Alexander Anderson has just completed his freshman year at Cornell where he has already made a name for himself. Mrs. John Guild was a home-coming passenger with her little daughter, Marjorie. Mrs. George R. Carter returned, accompanied by the Misses Grace, Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter. Mr. Henry Carter and Mr. G. R. Carter, Jr., Miss Mary Ragan Gary of Baltimore were also of this party.

Others well known here who returned to their native shores were: Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Damon, Mrs. T. C. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gav, Mr. B. E. Johnson, Mr. A. F. Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knudsen, Miss Alexandra Knudsen, Master Valdemar Knudsen, Dickson Nott, Miss Hilda K. von Holt and Mr. J. Galt.

Hayes-Bryan Wedding.

At 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning Miss Mary A. Hayes of Westfield, Massachusetts, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth C. Bryan of the faculty of the Territorial Normal and Training school. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. Ebersole, associate minister of Central Union church, at Mr. Ebersole's home in Manoa valley. Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Weir of Portland, Oregon, personal friends of Mr. Bryan, attended the couple at the simple but pretty and impressive ceremony.

Miss Hayes arrived on the steamer Lurline on Tuesday morning and was met off the harbor by Mr. Bryan, who went out to meet her on the customs launch. As they left the boat, they were showered with rice and good wishes by the passengers aboard the Lurline who had learned of the romance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will make their home in Honolulu. After a short while they will be at home in this city.

Borges-Sequeira Nuptials.

A private wedding of the week was that of Mr. James J. Borges of Honolulu and Miss Julia Medeiros Sequeira of Kaula, Hawaii, who were married by the Rev. Father Stephen at the Catholic cathedral. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Borges, South Lane, Kalihi.

Country Hotels Popular.

The country hotels, particularly Halewa and the Aubrey, are the scenes of many gay and informal luncheon and dinner parties these days with not a few dancing parties too. They are so convenient to the motorists and say day one may come upon these merry groups of society folk enjoying an outing in these more distant parts of the island.

The Bostonians Return.

The popular little Bostonians are back again to sing and dance and dimple for Honoluluans. It is quite an indication that they like the place to have this return visit and as they have a great many friends and admirers here, the pleasure is undoubtedly mutual.

They have already given a number of our home-comers a taste of what is in store for them by giving a presentation of "The Dreda Girl" to the cabin passengers on the Siberia, which ship brought them back to our shores.

Lieut. and Mrs. Pillow's Dinner.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome G. Pillow entertained at a delightful dinner at the Pleasanton last evening. The table was made very attractive by a lovely centerpiece of pink carnations and maidenhair fern. Covers were placed for Captain and Mrs. R. M. Cutts, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Furer, Lieut. Ellis Lando, Miss Betty Case, Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Reidman and Lieut. and Mrs. Pillow.

Capt. and Mrs. Carpenter's Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. Edward Carpenter are entertaining at dinner this evening in honor of General and Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards. After the dinner, the party will attend the dance at the Pacific Club.

Miss Maud de Britteville, who sailed on the Matsushita Wednesday for San Francisco, where on July 8 she will wed Dr. James Malcolm Thompson.

Miss Mary von Holt is entertaining at a supper-dance this evening.

Miss Helen McLean is giving a large dance on Saturday evening.

Miss Gary of Baltimore is the guest of the Misses Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter.

Mrs. Albert Wilcox entertained at luncheon on Monday for Mrs. Carl Holloway.

Mr. Marcus Monsarrat, son of Dr. W. T. Monsarrat, has just arrived in the city, having come direct from West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Farrington entertained a few friends informally at a beach supper at the Outrigger club on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Atwater and her sister are visiting their brother, Mr. Edwin Benner, and Mrs. Benner, at their home in Manoa Valley.

Miss Margaret E. Clarke and Miss Bertha Kemp sailed last Friday for the Orient on their way around the world. Miss Clarke expects to stop in Paris where she will spend some months.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, July 2.—Major and Mrs. Cruikshank were hosts at a delightful dinner on Friday evening of last week. Covers were placed for six guests at an artistically decorated table. White daisies with their fern-like foliage in a round holder, simulating a circular garden-bed formed the centerpiece, while white candle shades completed the decorative scheme. The guests were Lieut. and Mrs. Glassford, Lieut. and Mrs. Potter and Lieut. and Mrs. Phillipson.

A genuine Hawaiian luau was given Sunday night with Lieut. Garr and Dr. Kennedy as hosts. During the afternoon the barbecuing of the pig took place on the lawn at the side of the quarters occupied by the two young officers, exciting much interest and comment on the part of the passers-by. That evening the guests testified that pig was as good as it was interesting—qualities which do not always go together. Other Hawaiian dishes were attendant and enjoyed, while the immediate surroundings of the table as nearly resembled the scene in which the luau is usually held as they could be made. Large tree fern and clumps of banana trees lined the walls, potted plants filled the corners so completely that nothing of the house could be seen. Hanging among the branches were small lanterns which illuminated the table over which, forming a solid mat of green, was spread from end to end of ferns. The guests were Lieut. and Mrs. Warren, Lieut. and Mrs. Lyman, Lieut. and Mrs. Donaldson, Miss Gertrude Hopkins, Miss Kirkham and Captain Benjamin. After the feast the party went to Lyman's quarters for music which, carrying out the Hawaiian character of the evening, was the singing by the guests of many of the native melodies.

Captain and Mrs. O'Shea entertained on Monday, giving a very delightful dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. Gaugler, Lieut. and Mrs. Milton, Mrs. Miller, Miss Holcomb, Dr. Kennedy and Lieut. Garr. The cavalry hop at the club was unusually well attended on Monday, a number of dinners given before it always augment the dancers, and the informality of the club hop is an attractive feature in the summer months. Captain and Mrs. Mason also entertained Monday with a dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. Glassford, Miss Ellis and Lieut. Rodgers and Neal. White and red netulas in a tall vase formed the effective table decorations, supplemented with tall silver candlesticks surmounted with red shades.

Monday of this week Mrs. Warren gave an auction party of three tables, entertaining for Mesdames Bailey, Fechet, Baker, Willard, Martin, Burnett, Deems, Willyoung, Forsythe, Mapes, and Dodds. Mrs. Willard proved the lucky lady of the afternoon, her high score winning the first prize, a half dozen tea napkins, beautifully embroidered; Mrs. Willyoung had the second highest score, and was given an embroidered guest towel. Mrs. Fechet received "consolation," a set of Japanese table runners.

Lieut. and Mrs. Milton entertained at dinner on Friday for Major and Mrs. Harrison, Captain and Mrs. Chitt, Captain and Mrs. Holbrook, Lieut. Owen, Lieut. Rodgers and Lieut. and Mrs. Cheney. Red geraniums and candle shades gave an unusual and attractive color note.

The Tuesday Cavalry-Artillery auction club met with Mrs. Chitty this week, completing a tournament. Miss Gertrude Hopkins and Miss Harriet Ellis won first and second prizes. Mrs. Marr, Mrs. Milton and Mrs. Gaugler were elected to be new members of the club.

Captain and Mrs. Bunker's dinner on Friday was an enjoyable affair. Colonel and Mrs. Cheatham, Miss Cheatham, Captain and Mrs. P. Parker and Lieut. Huntley were the guests. The party afterward attended the post hop in the amusement hall.

Mrs. Charles Meals, wife of Lieut. Meals of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, has returned recently from a visit that, or she'll want to hire her for some months spent on the coast.

JULY 8 IS DECLARED REAL LIBERTY DAY

[By Latest Mail]
PHILADELPHIA—That the Declaration of Independence was publicly promulgated July 8 instead of July 4 and that it was first read by John Nixon from an old observatory balcony instead of from the steps of Independence Hall, as popularly supposed, are the assertions of Wilfred Jordan, curator of the hall, who is digging in historic Independence Square to find the foundations of the observatory.
